DOLLY QUALIFIED

A little girl went into a registration booth at Lethbridge Tuesday and said wistfully: "I want to register my dolly."
The registrar condescendingly replied "Your dolly doesn't need to register. Only people over 16 years of age."
"But," the little tot came back smartly, "this dolly is more than 16 years. She's been in the family or years my sisters owned her."

Take Iron Cross Back to Hitler

Washington, Aug. 6 (AP) Henry Ford and Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, Senator William Smathers (Dem) New Jersey, said today, should "pick up the little iron crosses given them by Hitler and go back to Germany."

"In fact," the senator said in an interview, "I'm for having the country provide them free transportation to Germany. I would introduce a bill to provide government payment for transporting them and their little iron crosses."

"The automobile manufacturer," Smathers stated, "with his hand on the Hitler cross says he will make airplanes to defend the United States but not Britain. Everyone knows that in helping to defend Britain we are defending ourselves."

Get Aviation School

Claresholm, Aug. 12
Claresholm citizens are looking forward to a place in the British Commonwealth air training scheme.

Crews have been here surveying for the past week, an area in the Clear Lake district, and one about three miles west of town.

Should the government establish an air training centre here Claresholm will become a very busy town, as at the present time it is thought that Claresholm will be a permanent training centre for compulsory military training, with about 100 men in barracks at all times.

Mr. N. O'Malley purchased a new Ford V 8 truck from Cooley Bros. last week.

War's Moral Obligations

This war is an all-embracing war.

Let no one hug to himself the delusion that the effects of this tremendous conflict now being waged in Europe, Africa and Asia will not affect his welfare, his future destiny and perhaps his very existence, no matter in what part of the world he may have his domicile.

Even as the ripples caused by a stone cast in the water spread through the length and breadth of a mighty ocean, the repercussions of a bomb which destroys a house in a village in south eastern England are felt in Cape Town and Honolulu, in Brisbane and Winnipeg. The most remote and hidden spot in the world cannot escape the effects of carnage and destruction.

The greater the forces of destruction, the more widespread and the more intense is the aftermath, immediate and in the more distant future. The longer the war lasts, the deeper and the more drastic will be the wounds inflicted, physically, economically, socially and politically. The whole of humanity is bound to suffer the ill effects of the slaughter and destruction. Hence, the necessity for as speedy a termination of the war as possible.

The only insurance of an early ending of this war is its prosecution with the utmost vigor as can be marshalled by all the resources of manpower, skill and material at the command of the Empire and Allies and friends. In Canada, an important step in this direction has just been taken in the registration of the manpower of the nation, recently completed under the direction of the New Ministry of War Services.

Only A First Step

Designed for this very purpose—the prosecution of the war with the utmost vigor and thereby its speedier termination—this national registration is all to the good and highly laudable. It places on record, as far as it is possible to do so on paper, the capabilities and capacities of every individual in the nation. The avowed intention is to utilize the services and talents of every individual, as revealed by this survey, to the best advantage in the one great objective of winning the war, and winning it with the greatest possible despatch.

But, it should be pointed out registration is only the first step to this highly desirable end. If the work of documentation just undertaken is to be of value, it must be utilized to maximum advantage. There is every reason to assume that that is the intention of the government, under whose direction registration has been made, but it must not be overlooked that if this intention is to be made effective to the nth degree, the whole-hearted co-operation of every man, woman and child is an absolute essential.

The willingness with which the people of this country went to the booths and gave the information which was sought must be backed up by an equal willingness—nay, an enthusiastic desire, to undertake whatever effort may subsequently be assigned to him or her as his or her share of the joint national effort, and to carry out such assignment cheerfully, willingly and with the maximum of one's ability and capacity for efficiency.

To the extent that the individual displays reluctance in carrying out the task assigned, to the extent that he or she permits the traces to slacken, to the extent that any disposition to grumble is permitted to handicap efficiency, to that degree the nation's war effort will be hampered and to that extent will the day when victory shall crown the country's war efforts be delayed.

With this truth imprinted indelibly on every mind and with every loins girded up to hasten the time when the great objective of our sacrifices shall be achieved, the loyalty and co-operation of every individual in the country should be assured.

Everybody's Job

There are foes within as well as foes without, and not the least of them is the slacker, who may be well meaning enough, but who is willing to "let George do it," if the doing of it represents inconvenience to himself or sacrifice on his part.

That, however, is not the spirit in which this war can be won. The enemy is too powerful, too dangerous and too well organized to be overcome by half-hearted efforts. His methods of fighting are too insidious to be met by anything less than complete mobilization, not only of such concrete things as manpower and material resources, but also of those more intangible resources of the spirit and the mind—courage, determination, loyalty, co-operation and the will to do to the best of one's ability and capacity, regardless of physical discomfort.

It is in these things that the people of Great Britain and of Canada excel and this has been clearly demonstrated in the present war to date, but these moral and spiritual resources must be marshalled and mobilized to the maximum degree, as well as those of a physical character, if the war is to be won and won speedily. And that is the job of every individual. It is everybody's war.

Just A Reminder

When one reads of five British airmen attacking a flight of 100 Germans and chasing them out, it is a reminder of the verse in Leviticus, xxvi, 8: "Five of you shall chase an hundred and an hundred of you shall put ten thousand to flight."

Must Rely On Harvest

Denmark Cannot Import Fodder Necessary For Her Livestock

Curtailment of Denmark's exports of foodstuffs due to war stoppage of her fodder imports was foreshadowed in a report of the agricultural council.

The council estimated that butter exports would drop by 100,000 tons, slaughtered pigs from 180,000 to 40,000 tons, eggs from 100,000,000 to 21,000,000.

Exports of live pigs will decline from 4,000,000 to 2,000,000, cattle from 3,300,000 to 2,800,000 and chickens from 12,000,000 to 7,000,000. The report said Denmark must depend exclusively upon her own harvests to feed her livestock.

Placer Mining

Men Still Make Money Panning For Gold In The Yukon

The days of the Klondike are far from dead, according to the Mines and Resources Department's annual report on placer gold production.

Men still "pan" Yukon streams for gold and during the fiscal year ended March 31, 1940, production amounted to 108,078 ounces, an increase of 17,483 ounces from the previous year. "After almost a half century of continuous operation the famous placer fields of the Klondike still have gold-bearing reserves of a magnitude that assures more years of success," the department says.

The old pan, rocker and sluicing methods, however, have given way largely to large dredges, mostly operated by electricity developed from the water power of the area. During the fiscal year 11 dredges operated and they handled more than 10,000,000 cubic yards of gravel.

There were 2,844 claims of good standing, of which 2,502 were in the Dawson district, 103 in the Mayo district and 39 in Whitehorse. "The high price of gold in recent years has resulted in increased attention being given the Yukon," says the report. "Placer operators are working over the old Klondike diggings and the lower grade ground which was neglected in the days of '98."

Prospecting for placer gold increased, and extensive stripping and thawing operations, preliminary to large-scale dredging, were carried out on several claims.

More Generous Gifts

Two Received In London Recently Deserve Special Mention

A poor woman's gift of $150 ($707)—and a working girl's entire savings, £100 ($445)—are but two of the generous offers which have been received in London by the National Savings Committee and the Red Cross, respectively.

In a clumsily tied paper parcel the poor woman, who refused to give her name and any other identification, left £150 in old treasury notes and a scrawled message which read: "Please will you share these notes for the Red Cross and to help the war."

The other case came from a working class girl who lent her entire savings of £100—to the Government free of interest for the duration of the war.

An Ideal House

Everything In Five-Room Exhibit At New York Is Washable

For two successive years, an exhibit in New York has shown a washable house, everything in the five rooms being washable with soap and water. The wallpaper is really washable, not merely so named, the furniture covers are of linen or cotton, the draperies are of chintz and everything else is unspoilable by laundering. There is a composition wall cover which looks like knobby pine, which is washable. Vase painted in flat wall paints are also washable.

Misjudged His Passenger

A Scotsman arrived at Euston at noon and asked a taxi-driver if he could drive him to catch a train at Waterloo at four o'clock.

The driver thought he could do it in the time. The traveller got inside and for three hours and fifty minutes the taximan drove the Scotsman by devious ways across London.

When he was set down at Waterloo, the Scotsman sought a policeman.

"What's the fare from Euston?" he asked.

"About three shillings," was the response.

"Here," said the Scot, handing him the money, "will you settle with the driver while I get my ticket?"

A Recent Discovery

Scientists Report Finding Radio Pathway From North To South

The following interesting article is by Stephen J. McDonough, Associated Press Science writer:

Discovery of a radio pathway linking all of the Americas has been reported by scientists of Argentina and the United States.

Dr. A. T. Cosentino of the Argentine ministry of the interior and Dr. J. H. Dellinger of the United States bureau of standards, said in a joint article that during the northern winter and southern summer radio signals going north and south are 25 times greater and 15 times less variable than broadcasts between the United States and Europe.

They declined to comment on the economic and political value of this radio link. But others pointed out that it makes possible closer radio and telephone communication in the western hemisphere.

The scientists said the phenomenon of a radio channel north and south instead of east and west is due to disturbances in the ionosphere—the reflecting layers of electrified air in the upper atmosphere which bounce radio signals back to the earth.

Electrical storms occur constantly in the ionosphere and interfere with radio communications. They were attributed by Dr. Cosentino and Dr. Dellinger to influences of the magnetic field of the earth near the north magnetic pole and the aurora borealis, the effects being more pronounced in high latitudes.

Behind The Headlines At Ottawa

By Dean Wilson

While it is true now that by the acts of national registration, general mobilization and the defense of Canada regulations the Government in Ottawa has assumed from the Parliament of the people of Canada history-making powers and extraordinary control over all human and material resources, involving the fate of every man, woman and child in this nation, this veteran observer on Parliament Hill can report in this column that there is absolutely no reason for any general alarm that this means dictatorship or loss of constitutional liberty in Canada for the duration of this war. In fact, these grave national measures are part of the Government's efforts to merely encourage intelligent and orderly planning of all war activities, calling for the collection and analysis of all human and economic data and to merely recognize the profound difficulty of adjusting habits and prejudices of a lifetime to the requirements of a national emergency, with the confident belief by the Government that the people of Canada are ready at all time to take intelligent action, accept their full responsibilities courageously and to co-operate thoroughly with their fellow-citizens and with their Government. It will be only the failure of such opportunities for self-service and public service that may make necessary the exercise of these extraordinary and reserved powers of the Government of Canada which may appear now to be dictatorial but which are in fact only powers of self-preservation.

There is no choice. The great political leaders of the English-speaking world have always held that dictatorship means tyranny, stagnation and error, driving the people to extremes and causing them to lose their sense of judgment. Indeed, the history of the English-speaking peoples from the 13th century to the present time is the history of the great struggle throughout the centuries for constitutional liberty when men fought and died for freedom and for those ideals that form the basis of their distinctive contribution to modern civilization, such as that of parliamentary government, that of the principle that the ruling power must obey the law, and that of the paramount importance in life of unconditional freedom of worship, speech, press, and assemblage. Thus, there is not the slightest doubt on Parliament Hill of the futility of legalistic arguments on the laws of history under the new emergency measures in face of the crucial situation because the historic constitutional rights of the individual citizen remain the same and no sacred rights are violated by any acts or proclamations, even if there may be extraordinary powers possessed temporarily by the Government at Ottawa to meet extraordinary needs, with the Administration operating so far as possible strictly within the boundaries of their constitutional rights and judicial determinations.

It is a truly democratic and truly Canadian solution of grave national problems that have produced dictatorships in many other nations since the last World War. Undoubtedly, it will result in very heavy burdens upon the masses but at the same time it will create untold and lasting benefits.

In the past, careless and easy-going policies of all parties or political shades of opinion have accomplished nothing of special benefit to this nation. Millions and millions of dollars were spent on national defense, but it did not produce a sufficient defense until the emergency war actions were taken. Millions and millions of dollars were disbursed in general governmental expenses to offset depression, but the dole was not cut down, unemployment was not reduced, the conditions of the farmers were not improved materially, and normalcy was not brought back. Millions and millions of dollars were gathered by heavy taxation but commensurate public benefits were not obtained, nor did industries receive any inducements by these heavy impositions. Subversive teachings and disloyal activities have permeated many communities, but it is only since the start of this war that these activities have been curbed in the proper manner.

However, Canada has realized now what can happen to any democracy on account of lax government and disloyal activities and it has awakened to a complete and timely realization of its own situation whereby it is no longer a secret that extravagance and inefficiency, which would be merely dangerous in time of peace, may be calamitous in time of war. Therefore, all human and material resources of Canada appropriated for national defense will be undoubtedly be thoughtfully and skillfully applied in such a manner that this nation will be rendered secure from all armed attack, though at the same time the whole democratic system will not crumble or collapse in face of all emergency measures adopted in Ottawa.

High School Teachers and Parents

With the commencement of the school term less than two weeks away, it is imperative that high school students make themselves thoroughly familiar with the regulations for the term 1940-1941.

The outline below provides a few of the important regulations:

1. The Department requires that students to receive credit must have instruction during an attendance of not less than 150 days. Students are therefore to be warned against belated enrolment this fall.

2. No third-year subject may be taken by a student who does not hold forty (40) high-school credits.

3. Since the total number of credits carried by the subjects in which instruction is offered at the Chinook High School is limited to seventy (70) it is absolutely necessary that the students register the very first day, as failure to do so, may result in an incomplete or undesirable programme for the student.

4. In the selection of courses to be taught during the term preference will be given in the following order: (a) those completing grade twelve in 1941, (b) number of students desiring to take a particular subject, (c) early registration in the desired course.

5. As far as is known to date, the following compulsory and academic courses will be given: Geometry 1, Chemistry 1, English 1, Health 1, General Mathematics 1, Social Studies 2, Social Studies 3, Physics 2, Algebra 2, Biology 2. The choice of Options and other Academic or compulsory subjects will depend entirely on the factors enumerated in paragraphs (3) and (4).

6. Twenty (20) credits will be regarded as a minimum, and thirty (30) credits as a maximum year's work.

7. With respect to all subjects except Biology, first units are prerequisites for the corresponding second units, and second units for the corresponding third units.

8. Instruction in the second units or in the third unit (with the exception of English and Social Studies) may be taken only by students who have obtained at least a "B" standing in the first unit of the second unit as the case may be.

9. Students are required to plan their high-school programmes for the completion of 150 credits not merely 100 credits.

10. Every student is encouraged to communicate, at any time, with the principal, who will explain the new programme, advise regarding choices of courses, check over the student's record, and fundamental purpose of the new programme is not merely to purvey high-school credits but to help every student to "grow up" successfully and to become a competent adult.

Innocent victims of a war in which their fathers are playing a noble part, these youthful evacuees from England arrived unaccompanied in Montreal after an uneventful journey by Canadian Pacific service, in Windsor Station, Montreal, the young Britons showed deep interest in the railway's War Memorial commemorating the death of Canadian Pacific soldiers of a generation ago—many of them fathers of the Canadian Pacific employee, who are today bringing the youth of England safe by land and sea from the horrors of Hun air raids.
